We hear a couple in bed. The husband has just farted and has an attack of the giggles.

The wife is understandably upset by the situation and tells him so.

The husband apologises repeatedly, but doesn't really mean it as he is finding the whole thing hilarious.

VO: At Allpest, we don't do husbands. But we do get rid of every other type of pest.

production note:

We hear a husband holding a crying baby.

The baby needs changing, but rather than do it himself, the husband goes to great pains to try and find his wife, so she can change the baby's nappy.

We hear a couple in bed. The husband is snoring, and his wife thumps him awake to get him to stop.

Rather than apologizing for snoring though, he blames her, goes back to sleep, and continues to snore.
