New Brownes Chill Double Espresso has a completely new recipe including a double shot of real roasted Arabica and Robusta coffee beans. In fact it's so full of flavour it's like one of those body builder women who is only separated from her male counterparts by the addition of the matching bikini top but always says things like (super deep voice) 'it's important to me that I stay looking feminine'. Yeah, it's like one of those women is blasting out super sets with your taste buds before a big bodybuilding lady event, but Brownes Chill Double Espresso gets its strength of flavour naturally which is a little different than the bodybuilder lady. No artificial colour either. Brownes Chill would also look quite a bit better in a bikini.

ANNCR:

New Brownes Chill Double Espresso has a completely new recipe including full rich creamy WA milk and a full double shot of real roasted Arabica and Robusta coffee beans. In fact it tastes so naturally full-flavoured and delicious it's like a real Colombian village jumped inside your mouth and had a fiesta or a Carnivale or Hannukah—or whatever sort of thing—and then set off some fireworks and some Banditos showed up and some Federales and started shooting machine guns around willy-nilly with no regard for the long-term future of your taste buds because life is cheap down there my friend, but the one regard they do show your taste buds is that – like Brownes Chill – their machine gun bullets are made with no artificial additives, which gives your taste buds little comfort as they've got a family they're working hard to take care of.

ANNCR:

New Brownes Chill Double Espresso has a completely new recipe including a full double shot of real roasted Arabica and Robusta coffee beans. In fact, it's so naturally full flavoured it's like a mixed martial arts cage fighting guy got your mouth inside the octagon and started doing those strange grappling and choke hold things to your tongue and your tongue's trying to tap out but it has no hands and the crowd's going feral but then it kind of goes a little quiet because even cage fighting fans have a limit and they've never seen such a one-sided beating in their lives and just then the octagon announcer reminds the fans that it's common for species in the animal kingdom to battle for dominance like this and that Brownes Chill is just behaving in a way that's honouring it's natural creation and that if the tongue dies, it dies.
