

Limited helmet.

MVO: You bought it online, outbidding Vader1.

Now your official galactic war-helmet stares at you behind 10-centimetre thick display glass. It's soulless black eye caps are telling you no, but the force is strongly saying yes. That helmet's the size of a punchbowl in your hands. Mint condition no more, use it, you will...

SFX: Hear breathing as if Vader's mouth then a huge SLURP

MVO: There's millions of cups out there. What will you bring?
Slurpee BYO cup day is back September 22 only at 7-Eleven.

Precious Nanna.

MVO: So there she is on top of the fireplace.

She was a small lady, but it's a pretty massive urn. I mean, you're no 'urn expert', but as a cricket fan, you know how big the Ashes are. And this is way bigger. It could hold a lot. Nanna won't miss it. Plus she always loved the garden.

Wrong Bowl.

MVO: Tashi loves it.

She doesn't care you haven't washed it in... ever. That there's dog food jelly bits caked on the side - like an exploded volcano of glossy-horsemeat. But you're thinking of a non-canine use for it. You should probably wash the bowl first... hmmm... what's a bit of extra protein anyway?
