Hi I'm doubting Thomas and I doubt things. I've even doubted that I doubt things, but anyways... I'm here to convince you to buy Dulux Aquanamel, but i doubt i will because who would belief that a water based enamel paint exists?

Let's see what's in it then. (mumbling...) anal paint! well then, in light of this new evidence I shall be in full known simply as Thomas, I suppose.

Hi, I'm the boy who cried wolf. Its hard living your life with no one believing what you're saying. Even now if I yell 'Dinners ready' no one comes... but believe me when I tell you there is a water based enamel out there! It's called Dulux Aquanamel. Its real, i've seen it! It looks nothing like a wolf, no fur or snarly teeth, Just a can and some paint. I promise!

Hi, Big Foot here. That's right, sasquatch. People don't believe I exist and that really gets my goat and no the delicious goat that Mrs Big Foot cooks. anyways, folks also don't believe that water based enamel paint exists. Well it does, It's called Dulux Aquanamel. I'm holding a can right now, see? (Sound of somebody knocking on a can, dropping it and fumbling after it) damn...
